Stanton K. Ware

Stanton K. Ware is an Art Director employed by the Texas Transportation Institute's Information and Technology Exchange Center, located at Texas A&M University in College Station, Texas. He specializes in website development, corporate identity, corporate publications, photo direction and exhibit design.

Mr. Ware earned a Bachelor of Environmental Design in the College of Architecture, graduating Cum Laude, and a Master of Architecture, receiving the Outstanding Final Study Award, from Texas A&M University. He completed a six months study abroad program in Italy, has received numerous scholarships, is a member of the Golden Key National Honor Society and is a member of Tau Sigma Delta, the National Architecture Honors Fraternity.

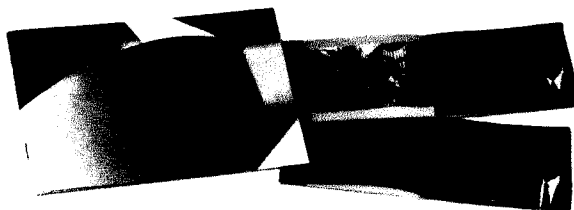

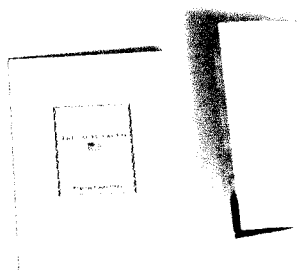

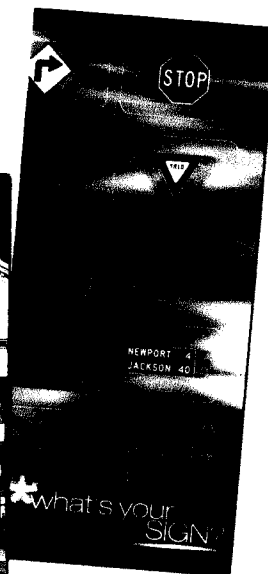

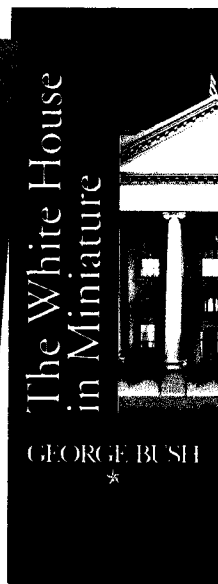

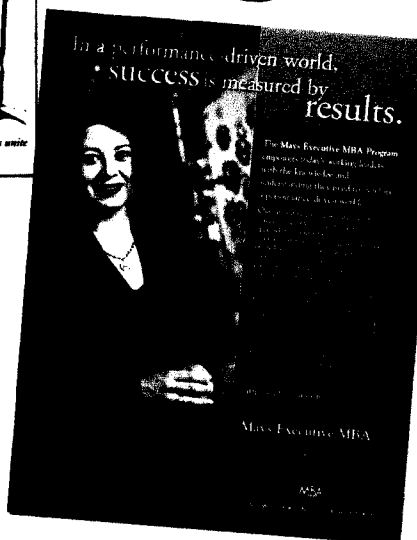

Mr. Ware is known as one of the most outstanding designers in Texas. His websites include the Arts Council of Brazos Valley, Brazos Valley Veterans Memorial, Loop 410 Construction in San Antonio and the Executive MBA Program at Texas A&M University. His use of advanced website software, especially Flash, ensure that his designs are always at the cutting edge of the profession.

Mr. Ware has also designed the identities for the Legends of the West exhibit and the Freedom's Journey exhibit at the George Bush Presidential Library and Museum. Other identities Mr. Ware has designed are for the Brazos Valley African American Museum and the Brazos Valley Festival of African Arts. The new identity for the Bryan College Station Convention and Visitors Bureau is one of the most recent designs he has introduced to the area.

Though Stanton has received many awards and honors, perhaps his most distinct honor is to have received a handwritten personal note of appreciation from former President George Bush for his design of a George Bush Presidential Library banner. In his note, President Bush said, "I like the design a lot, all the best."
